

C. U.SHAH MEDICAL COLLEGE. SURENDRANAGAR, GUJARAT

MINUTES OF MEETING OF IAEC HELD ON 8-10-13 AT 5.00 p.m.

A meeting was arranged in the Dean's office under the chairmanship of Res. Dean sir and following members were present.

Dr. H H Agravat	Dean & Chairman IAEC
Dr. T. R. Desai	CPCSEA Main Nominee
Dr. A.S.Agnihotri	Prof & Head Pathology- In house Sci.
Dr. Ashok Ramanuj	Prof Microbiology- In-house Sci.
Dr. K.L.Rawal	Vet.Doctor-CUSMC
Dr. Dimple S.Mehta	Prof & Head Pharmac, Member Sec IAEC & I/C AHF

Dr. Sudhir Mehta (Sci. from outside Institute) & Dr. N.M. Patel (Socially aware non-sci. member) had sent request note that due to their personal reasons they could not make it possible to remain present.

The agenda of the day were as follows:

- (a) Welcoming of the new committee
- (b) Discussion on the proposal of an educational project on anti-inflammatory & analgesic activity.

The Dean welcomed the committee members and the discussion begun.

The main nominee checked all the registers & paper work regarding the animal house.

There was a discussion on the study proposal of plant product having analgesic & anti-inflammatory activity.

The member secretary explained that in the MD Pharmacology Curriculum, they have included to teach various practical methods to the PG students. So, they can be trained to handle animals carefully and she wants to teach the PG students how to evaluate anti-inflammatory & analgesic activity of some drugs. so, she took permission from the main nominee to let them carry out such activity where they will produce acute & sub acute inflammation and compare the efficacy of traditionally given drugs (Diclofenac sod, Pott, Nimesulide..etc)Vs some traditional Ayurvedic preparations like (Boswellia serreta)

The nominee clearly explained them it should be purely curricular & educational activity of the department.

Then the nominee Dr. T.R.Desai took a round to the animal house. Where he checked the food stock, various registers, and he visited all the rooms of Rat/mice & rabbit/guinea pigs. He inquired about the food given to the animals and discussed about the general health of animals.

He checked all the rooms and he found the animal house well maintained according to the norms.

He returned to the office with a sense of satisfaction.

The meeting was then adjourned with a cup of tea/coffee & light refreshment.
